7 Your Year in Real Periods

Your coming year does not divide into twelve equal months — the sky does not change on the 1st. It divides into 5 real periods, each running from one genuine turning point to the next: a slow planet changing sign, or your planetary period handing over. They are of different lengths because that is what the year is actually like. The month-by-month detail follows this section; read this first for the shape of the year.

Career & Work 94

A standout window for your career this month — favourable for a promotion, a new role, an important pitch, or visible recognition from seniors. Conditions are as favourable as they get, and favourable conditions reward those who use them. What you begin now tends to take root, and what you ask for tends to be granted, so choose the one or two things that genuinely matter and give them your weight. Doors that were stiff open easily; the waste would be to spend the window on small business.

Money & Finance 74

Healthy finances this month — good for saving, closing deals and steady income; a modest gain is likely. The ground is firm underfoot. Nothing here demands drama: keep doing what is already working, close what is nearly closed, and let steady progress accumulate. Consistency is worth more than a burst of effort now, and the results tend to hold rather than fade.

Love & Relationships 68

Affectionate and harmonious this month — good for quality time, honest talks and strengthening your relationship. The ground is firm underfoot.
